

REMARKS

In the Office Action of August 27, 2004, the Examiner indicated that the application contains claims directed to patentably distinct species. In response, Applicant elects Species II referred to as “method for cooling tower dissipation” reflected in Claims 4 - 6.

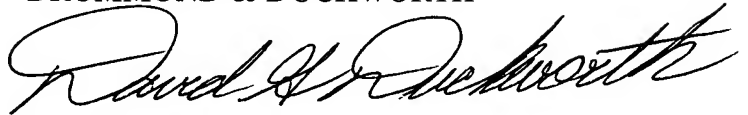

The Examiner also indicated that there were errors with respect to dependency within the dependent claims. These errors are believed to have corrected by the above amendments.

CONCLUSION

Continued prosecution of the present application is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

DRUMMOND & DUCKWORTH
